PRIVACY STATEMENT

AARAMA (All America Relieving Adversity Ministry Association) appreciates those who choose to support our organization, and because of this relationship we are committed to respecting your online privacy and security. We work hard to protect any personal online information you provide to our ministry. It is important that we maintain a relationship of trust and confidence with our donors. We would like to share our online privacy policy with you so that you are aware of our security practices.

Information collected

There are two ways we collect information from visitors on our website:

1. From online donations made through our website
2. From persons requesting information or materials from AARAMA

The information we obtain online is voluntarily provided by you when choosing to support a project, sponsor a child, or request to receive information from AARAMA. The information you will provide includes name, address, city, state, zip code, telephone number, and e-mail address. If you give a donation online, your credit card number with expiration date will also be collected. With this personal information we are able to update you on ministry projects, complete a transaction for a donation, and issue a tax receipt for donations. Your credit card information is used solely to complete the transaction and is not retained for any other purposes. Our accounting office has access to these details so they can process the credit card information.

Our accounting office consists of reliable, trustworthy staff that has been trained to handle this sensitive information.

Privacy Policy

Securing personal information

When collecting and transferring sensitive data online including personal information and credit card details, AARAMA wants to ensure the security of this information. Appropriate procedures have been established to prevent unauthorized access, maintain data accuracy, and ensure proper use of the information. We utilize Internet encryption technology, Secure Socket Layer (SSL) Protocol, which encrypts your information as it is entered on our website from your computer. The encrypted information is then sent over the Internet and decrypted on a computer in our office. Once the information reaches our office, only a few trusted staff members have access to it.

Sharing personal information with other organizations

We want to assure you that all information collected through the website is kept confidential. Your personal information is never sold, rented, leased, or exchanged with other organizations. The information is restricted to internal use by AARAMA

Unsubscribe from the mailing list
